

➤ A new medical practice rises out of the ground. Town End Surgery had outgrown its existing property and committed to a new purpose built premises and new identity.

Open plan work environment with informal meeting space for administration personnel

Consultants rooms required Patient/Doctor interaction combined with plenty of workspace and storage

The practice needed formal meeting space with flexibility to adapt as a training area

Townhill Surgery